Apprentices May Train With Shops

Virginia Division of Apprentice Training says results of recent contacts in the field of Cosmetology show that many operators are not aware that they can now train apprentices in their shop.

John L. Bray, Training Supervisor of the local office of the Division of Apprentice Training says the cosmetology law as administered by the Virginia State Board of Registered Professional Hairdressers enables a qualified shop to train one or more apprentices on the job.

Many operators upon finding that this kind of training is available have said they would like to train their employees in this way as it enables the trainee to learn under actual work conditions and build up a local trade at the same time.

Further information is available by contacting John L. Bray, Training Supervisor, Division of 713, Lynchburg, Va.

APPOMATTOX VOTERS
IT MAY BE LATER THAN YOU THINK!

If you do not make a choice on November 3rd at the polls, you may never have the chance again.

Power-mad politicians in Washington are daily giving away your freedoms, rights, and properties.

Because such a condition exists, a group of interested citizens in the Appomattox area have banded themselves together to work for and support Senator Goldwater for President and the re-election of Senator Byrd and Congressman Abbitt.

As to the qualities of these men, no better test can be found than to search their voting records. The records will prove these men are interested in you, your state, and your nation.

We believe these men to be men of high morals. Without morality we know there can be no trust, no meaningful treaties, no lasting peace nor prosperity, no freedom. The morals in the White House at present are at an all time low.

We further believe if you are interested in the future of America that there is the need, both dire and absolute, for all citizens, whether Democrat, Republican, or Independent, to cast your vote on November the 3rd and help rid Washington of some of the people who would lead us down the road to socialism, the bedfellow of Communism.

Read the following documented article below and see what kind of a man we have for a president–then resolve that we will repudiate Johnson and Socialism forever at the polls in November.

A Texan Looks At Lyndon

A startling expose of President Lyndon Johnson's rise to power, entitled, "A Texan Looks at Lyndon," has created a furore in the state of Texas and is now beginning to sweep the country. Some 2 million copies have been sold and the demand shows no signs of slackening. We shall undoubtedly hear a great deal more about the charges contained in the book in the election campaign.

The book was written by J. Evetts Haley, a Texas author and historian, owner of three Southwestern cattle ranches, and a graduate of West Texas University and the University of Texas.

Recently, Mr. Haley gave a press interview in Los Angeles in which he explained what his book contains. The interview was inserted in the Congressional Record of September 1 by Congressman H. R. Gross of Iowa, and is reprinted below.

* * *

"A Texan Look At Lyndon"
(By J. Evetts Haley)

I have been asked to come to you to explain some of the background of the publication of my latest book, "A Texan Looks at Lyndon," which is a study in illegitimate power, and how it came to be written.

This book was conceived, researched, and published as a sound, historical study, not as a campaign document: No group, no organization, and no party has had anything whatever to do with its inception, financing, or circulation. I conceived it, I wrote it, and I alone financed it from the very first and I'm still financing its publication.

Briefly, in this book, "A Texan Looks at Lyndon," I have:

1. Set forth the illegitimate pressure and power by which, in a constitutional republic, Johnson was originally put into the U. S. Congress as a protege of extreme liberal forces of the original New Deal.

2. I have briefly set forth the fraudulent nature of his claim of a distinguished World War II record, and how he returned to his "plush-lined foxhole" in the House Congressional Building in Washington as a lieutenant commander in the Navy.

3. I have told with irrefutable and unchallengeable proof how he, and his political henchmen and their confederates stole a closely contested U. S. senatorial election in Texas in 1948; a story with all the tragic aftermath of continued fraud and presumed assassinations.

4. In this book, which is a study in illegitimate power, I have proven the false, the shallow and shoddy nature of the claim that the origin of the Johnson family's multimillion-dollar fortune was founded on his wife's inheritance. It was, instead, laid with the acquisition of a radio and television monopoly in Austin, through the illegitimate use of power to ruin the owner of the station, which fell as an over-ripe plum into Lady Bird's lap, to put her husband and his family on their way to immense wealth.

5. I have detailed the methods, the men and the means by which Government contracts and political favors on one hand, and protection from tax problems and Federal harassment on the other were used to enrich Johnson's big corporate backers in Texas, like Brown & Foot of Houston, while on the other hand oppressing and even destroying those of humble origin and status who, with sufficient character and courage, have resisted his illegitimate power.

6. I have pointed out Johnson's intimate connections with such wheeler-dealers as Billie Sol Estes. One man after another, with intimate knowledge of the fantastic fraud, or with close connections with the principals involved, died sudden, mysterious, and violent deaths, while the profitable, tangible assets of the Estes empire were, without financial risk, handed virtually as a multimillion dollar gift to a friend and supporter of Johnson.

7. In this "Study in Illegitimate Power," I pointed out that a Pecos citizen, a locally prominent, successful doctor who discovered, and exposed this gigantic fraud by printing the story in a Texas county newspaper, was ruined financially and professionally, while Billie Sol Estes, with more than $18 million in Federal tax judgements against him and with two prison sentences for fraud imposed by Texas courts, is still free, living in a plush $50,000 home, driving a 1964 Cadillac, and living high off the hog of political influence.

8. I have again brought attention — with added detail — to Johnson's close connections with Bobby Baker. In this connection, I have presented evidence of his undoubted ability in Senator Fulbright's apt phrase — "to manager Congress" — and to suppress any inquiry anywhere on Capitol Hill; from that of Billie Sol Estes to Bobby Baker.

9. I have factually detailed the ruthless, vindictive and dangerous nature of this power-mad man, elevated through malevolent fate into the most powerful office in the world at the most critical period of America's history. All I have done is to bring my years of knowledge of the Texas scene and my ability as an academic investigator and historian to dig deep into the intimate and reliable sources of information. Having done this, I stand unafraid of what may follow — even the most that illegitmate power has historically invoked — because I believe in the sanctity of the printed word, well-knowing that when I commit the honest judgments of history to the printed page they are for the author, whether fortunate or hapless, beyond recall.
